

The Center for Inclusive Education

in conjunction with the Nanotechnology Studies program

Stony Brook
University

PRESENTS:

The Ethical, Legal, and Societal Impact of Nanotechnology

Wednesday, July 18th ~ 1:00 pm-4:30 pm

Simons Center for Geometry and Physics: Lecture Hall

Dr. Sara Brenner
Assistant Vice President for Nano
Health Initiatives
UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY
Assistant Professor, College of Nanoscale Science & Engineering

Dr. Ronald Sandler
Associate Professor, Department of Philosophy
NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY
Author, Nanotechnology: The Social and Ethical Issues

Dr. David Ferguson
Chair of the Department of Technology and Society
STONY BROOK UNIVERSITY
Distinguished Service Professor,
Department of Technology &
Society

John F. Gallagher III, P.E., Partner
FARRELL LAW FIRM, P.C.
Intellectual Property Law

Dr. Alexander M. Orlov
Assistant Professor, Department of Materials Science &
Engineering
STONY BROOK UNIVERSITY

Dr. Gary Halada
Associate Professor, Department of Materials Science &
Engineering
STONY BROOK UNIVERSITY

Topics include: Education and nanoethics; health and environmental impact of nanomaterials; the business of nanotechnology; and the growing impact of nanotechnology and nanomaterials

A full agenda available at: www.stonybrook.edu/nanotech
For more information, e-mail ghalada@notes.cc.sunysb.edu

This event is supported provided by the National Science Foundation

Schedule for the event:

1:00-1:05 p.m. Welcome and introduction

1:05-1:35 p.m. Dr. Ronald Sandler

1:40 - 2:10 p.m. Dr. Sara Brenner

2:15 - 2:45 p.m. Dr. Alex Orlov

2:50- 3:00 Break

3:00 - 3:55 p.m. Panel discussion (Dr. Ronald Sandler, Dr. Sara Brenner, Dr. David Ferguson, John F. Gallagher III esq., Dr. Gary Halada

3:55 -- 4:30 p.m. Meeting/mixer with REU fellows