Accreditation Advisory Group
September 6, 2023

Dear Academic Deans,

In a collaborative endeavor, the Office of Educational Effectiveness and the Office of Health Sciences Academic Support are actively working to enhance the level of support for program-level accreditation on both the East and West campuses. To further this effort, we intend to establish an Accreditation Advisory Group that will convene once a semester.

The purpose of this Advisory Group is to foster discussions, share insights, and provide resources that will contribute to the advancement of our accredited programs.

The below invitation will be sent to the representatives from all accredited programs within your College or School.

We eagerly anticipate working alongside this group and appreciate your continued endorsement.

Best,

Catherine Scott
Director, Office of Educational Effectiveness
Office of the Provost

Hello,

In a collaborative endeavor, the Office of Educational Effectiveness and the Office of Health Sciences Academic Support are actively working to enhance the level of support for program-level accreditation across both the East and West campuses. To ensure an informed approach to this initiative, we cordially invite you to join the Accreditation Advisory Group, an integral part of our strategy.

Our goal is to foster a collaborative environment where peers can share insights, exchange ideas, and collectively contribute to the enhancement of accreditation support.

The inaugural meeting of the Advisory Group is scheduled for Wednesday, September 27th, from 12:30pm to 1:30pm in the Faculty Commons. Lunch will be provided.

Please keep an eye on your inbox for the calendar invite.

Thank you for your attention, and we look forward to our collective efforts in advancing program-level accreditation support.

Best Regards,
Office of Educational Effectiveness
